Join Ciara from Clementine Creations for a creative banner workshop celebrating what makes each of us unique! Participants will add their own personalities, interests, and creative touches to a community banner that will be displayed throughout the month.

As part of our One Book programming, this project encourages conversations, connections, and learning more about the people in our community.

Flower Lantern Making and Meditation

Friday, November 13th at 9AM

This program combines creative expression, cultural learning, mindfulness, and personal reflection through the creation of a lotus flower lantern and an introduction to simple meditation practices inspired by the symbolism of the lotus flower and the search for one's inner light.

From October 19–30, stop by your Kern County Library to create a card, write a letter or poem, or draw a picture showing your appreciation for their service. Supplies will be provided. You can give your card directly to a veteran you know, or leave it with a library staff member to be shared with local veterans.
